

The Trusted Source

for Medication Repackaging Solutions

SAFECOR
HEALTH

As the established market leader, Safecor Health is uniquely qualified to customize and deliver a medication repackaging program that fits your organization's unit-dose and bar code needs.

Safecor Health helps our customers achieve a safer, higher-quality solution to medication repackaging in an ever-changing market. We have a nationwide service platform, strong relationships with group purchasing organizations and wholesalers, and offer the most flexible and cost-effective service model in the industry.

Our broad and flexible service options provide repackaging solutions for pharmacies of all sizes and models, including organizations that are multi-site and multi-state. We support customers with any pharmacy system and provide packaging formats that cover the wide spectrum of pharmacy automation and equipment that exist in the market.

As the pioneer in unit-dose and bar coded repackaging with more than three decades of experience, we have worked closely with pharmacy industry leaders, regulatory agencies, manufacturers and supply chain partners to establish and improve the standards and best practices for our industry. We also work very hard at making it easy for our customers to do business with us.

No wonder leading pharmacy executives and the majority of the top-ranked U.S. News and World Report hospitals trust Safecor Health for their repackaging needs.

Quality

Our reputation is built upon strict quality standards that improve patient safety.

Unmatched quality and customer service standards are why the most influential hospitals and health systems throughout the United States rely on Safecor Health to assist with their medication safety and bar coding needs.

Many pharmacies choose Safecor Health because they know we invest in the latest technology and continuous improvement measures. Our state-of-the-art operating platform catalogs repackaging orders as they arrive and provides numerous checks and validations as they are processed and repackaged. What's more, every order we repackage undergoes more than 25 quality control process checks including a 100% visual verification by our pharmacists.

As unit-dose repackaging specialists, we comply with FDA regulations and cGMP (current good manufacturing practices). We're registered with the FDA and DEA, and licensed by the states where our customers reside as required.

Our highly trained employees and dedicated production facilities are focused solely on repackaging pharmaceuticals. This expertise and scale enable us to provide safe, turnkey, cost-effective repackaging programs that help our customers focus on their priorities: quality patient care and medication safety. Whether you opt for a comprehensive repackaging solution or only want help with certain drugs or repackaging formats, you can depend on Safecor Health for quality solutions that meet your needs.

Experience

We pioneered unit-dose and bar coded repackaging services.

Experience has made Safecor Health the nation's leading provider of unit-dose bar code repackaging solutions for hospitals of all sizes.

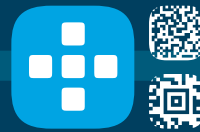

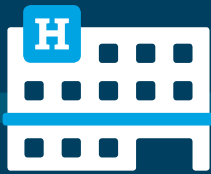

Founded in 1976 as Regional Service Center, the pioneer of outsourced unit-dose and bar coded medication repackaging services, Safecor Health has grown to serve the majority of institutional pharmacies in the United States that outsource their repackaging requirements.

Our dedicated employees and experienced leadership team concentrate on delivering superior quality and advancing the science of pharmaceutical repackaging, while continuously improving the supply chain and customer experience. Since our founding, we have worked closely with industry leaders, hospitals, pharmaceutical manufacturers, pharmacists, wholesalers and regulatory agencies to set the highest standards, establish best practices and develop innovations to serve our customers.

Count on Safecor Health's highly trained, experienced team to work closely with you to develop and execute a customized repackaging program that is safe, turnkey and cost-effective.

We assisted in establishing current standards for "beyond-use" dating and collaborated closely with the USP Testing Laboratories in the determination of Water Vapor Transmission Rates (WVTR) for film and foil laminates that ultimately led to USP standards.

01.

The hospital orders the medications through their wholesaler on a Bill To / Ship To repackaging account.

02.

The wholesaler delivers the hospital repackaging order to Safecor Health.

03.

Safecor Health repackages the hospital's order according to their specific needs.

04.

The repackaged medications are shipped from Safecor Health directly to the hospital pharmacy ready to dispense.

Supply Chain

Our nationwide service platform includes strong relationships with every major wholesaler and most GPOs.

Our seamless supply chain integration allows you to order directly from your wholesaler using your approved formularies and purchasing contracts.

Safecor Health's advanced supply chain integration and more than three decades of innovative services have made us the established market leader in outsourced medication repackaging services. Our nationwide service platform includes strong relationships with every major wholesaler and most GPOs, providing the most trusted and comprehensive service model in the industry. Our unique business model allows us to be a valuable extension of your pharmacy, keeping all purchasing and repackaging decisions under your department's control.

Our advanced order and inventory process:

- Allows pharmacies to order directly from their wholesaler using their approved formularies and purchasing contracts.
- Utilizes electronic data interchange for integration with wholesalers.
- Repackages according to pharmacy specifications using customized labels and bar codes.
- Features more than 25 quality checks, including a 100% pharmacist review.
- Provides fast and efficient turn-around times, reducing your inventory investment.

Breadth of Capability

We offer the most comprehensive outsourced repackaging services with a full range of packaging formats.

Our solutions range from the most basic repackaging and bar coding needs to extremely specialized and difficult options that address complex pharmacy automation environments.

Safecor Health's breadth of capabilities and expertise enable a full range of reliable, unit-dose repackaging services to institutional pharmacies in any type of care setting. Our service model allows your pharmacy to maintain complete control over all repackaging decisions impacting your pharmacy operations. You decide which formulary-approved items to order through your wholesaler, what repackaging formats and dose sizes you need repackaged, the content and design of your drug labels, and what types of bar codes are utilized. We're uniquely qualified to customize and deliver a program that fits your organization's repackaging needs while providing the best value to your bottom line.

Our solutions range from the most basic repackaging and bar code requirements to extremely specialized and difficult options for complex pharmacy automation environments. We have strong supply chain relationships, service awards with most GPOs, competitive pricing, consistent turnaround times, flexible label and bar code formats, and an experienced team to serve your pharmacy. In addition to a full range of repackaging formats, we provide unique services like Nimodipine extraction into oral syringes, unit-dose Gastroview and Gastrografin in either glass vials or cups, and many other unique services.

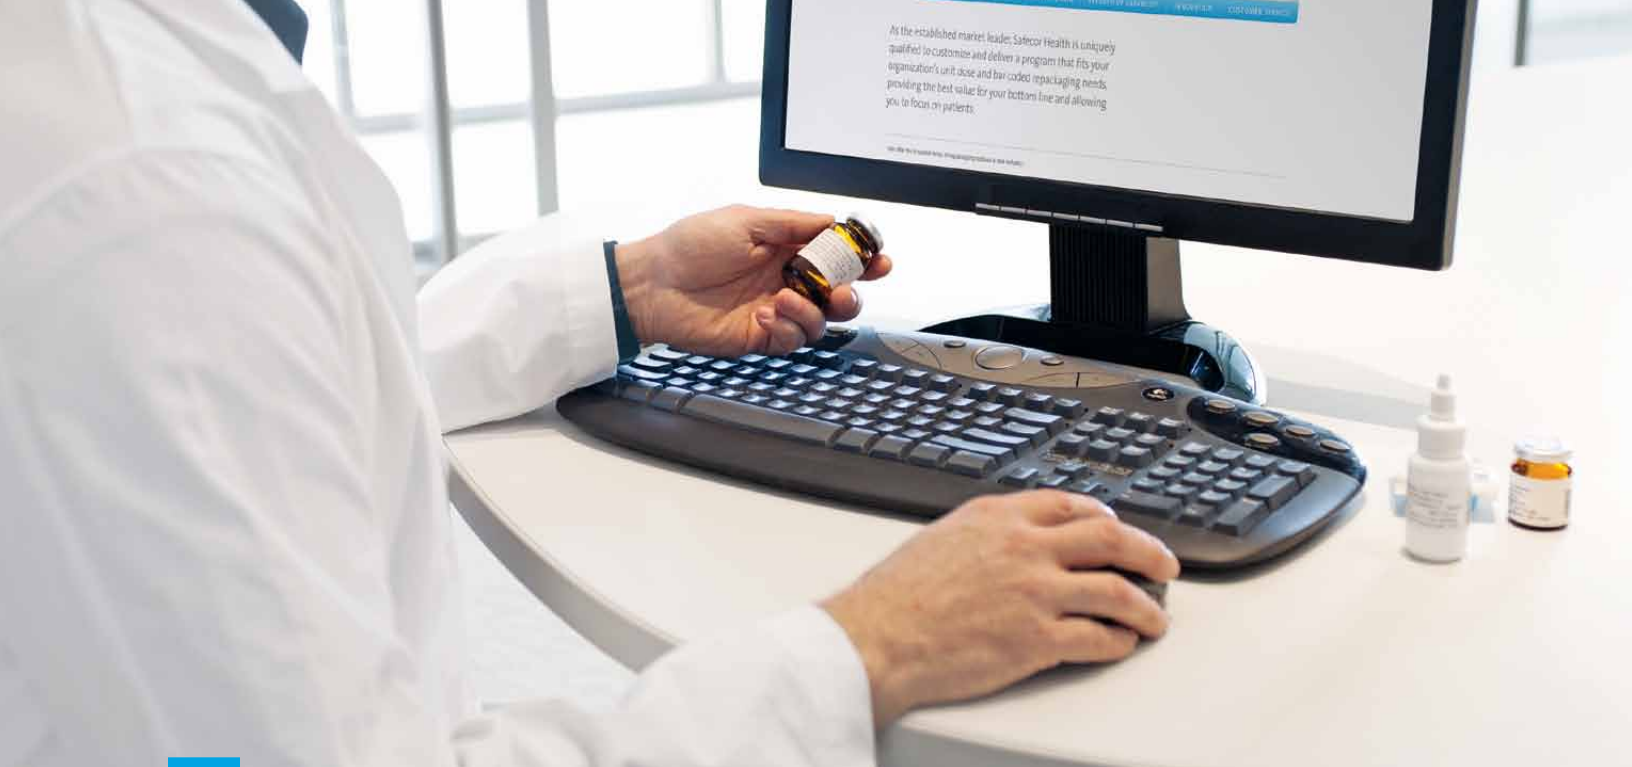

All of our repackaging processes follow proven procedures and quality principles that ensure your orders are safely repackaged and correctly labeled.

The many product formats that we support can integrate seamlessly with your pharmacy systems, automated dispensing cabinets, pharmacy robots and carousels. As for bar coding, we support all commercially available formats, including 2D or stacked bar codes containing the drug NDC#, lot# and expiration date. In addition, we expertly handle most categories of drugs requiring specific knowledge and special processing, including refrigerated items, light-sensitive medications, Schedule II-V drugs, and cytotoxic and hazardous medications.

All types of pharmacy customers, including specialty hospitals and regional and national health systems, trust Safecor Health to achieve a flexible, high-quality, turnkey repackaging solution that reduces risk, eliminates or reduces capital equipment investments and labor requirements, while supporting the individual needs of each facility.

Examples of our service formats and drug categories include:

- Oral Solids
- Liquid Cups
- Powders
- Oral Syringes
- Robot Ready
- Overwrapping
- Flag Labeling
- Schedule II-V
- Refrigerated
- Cytotoxic & Hazardous
- Light Sensitive
- Tall Man Lettering
- All Bar Code Formats
- And many others

Customer Service

There is no “one-size-fits-all” repackaging solution.

Safecor Health’s friendly customer service team and our experienced pharmacists can be a helpful extension of your pharmacy resources.

As a company that continually invests in state-of-the-art technology, it’s no surprise that technology also enables our superior customer service. As a customer, you can access our convenient Customer Center portal through our website where you can check the status of orders, get shipping confirmation links, download your order history and forms, track lot numbers and expiration dates, and update your account information.

We also have a Recall Advisement Service that monitors and communicates manufacturer drug recalls that occur in the market. This proprietary tracking system searches all repackaged products for manufacturer recalled lots by cross-referencing impacted products with the Safecor Health lot number. We proactively communicate with customers who have repackaged products that are affected by manufacturer recalls. If you also have resources that monitor and track manufacturer recalls in your pharmacy, your team can easily perform its own research by accessing your repackaging data through our portal.

Our commitment to superior customer service and quality are why the nation’s most respected and influential pharmacy leaders trust Safecor Health for their medication repackaging needs.

Innovation

At Safecor Health, innovation is in our DNA.

As a pioneer of unit-dose and bar coded medications, we constantly challenge ourselves to find safer, higher-quality and more cost-effective repackaging solutions for our customers.

Bar Coded Medication Administration (BCMA), Centralized Physician Order Entry (CPOE), bar coding and drug labeling requirements require pharmacies to prepare for changes in their operations to keep pace with changes in the market. Our customers are strategically positioned to quickly adapt their repackaging needs to the ever-changing dynamics of the pharmaceutical marketplace. Safecor Health's ongoing investments in people, capacity, I/T, and equipment, combined with our high standard of quality, broad scope of services, flexibility and scale offer the confidence and peace of mind our customers desire.

As an extension of your pharmacy team, our ongoing mission is to provide efficient, safe and cost-effective repackaging solutions that integrate into whatever pharmacy model or environment you require. We work closely with customers of all classes of trade, pharmaceutical manufacturers, pharmacy automation providers, wholesalers, industry pharmacists and regulatory bodies to set industry standards and to innovate improved solutions that evolve with the constantly changing market requirements.

Innovation is at the core of our customer service, too. For instance, consider our Customer Center portal. Here you can review order status, get quick links to FedEx and UPS delivery confirmations, view order details, download order activity and history, and update important account information online.

Value

Our turnkey repackaging programs deliver tremendous operational advantages and a superior return on investment.

We have a proven track record and the broadest scope of repackaging services and formats that optimize pharmacy labor resources and capital budget dollars for our customers.

Pharmacy leaders realize tremendous operational advantages and a superior return on investment with Safecor Health's repackaging programs. When evaluating the costs, risks and complexities of in-house repackaging, most leading institutions and pharmacy managers choose the overall value and high quality that comes with a Safecor Health solution.

It's simple: By working with us, your organization avoids costly capital equipment investments and can reallocate resources to other key priorities.

Safecor Health helps you achieve your drug label and bar code standardization efforts and addresses the ever-changing dynamics of the pharmaceutical market. We also help eliminate or reduce other ongoing costs associated with in-house repackaging such as inventory, space requirements, repackaging materials, quality assurance, regulatory, training programs, and equipment maintenance and downtime. As BCMA and other medication safety priorities are implemented and refined, pharmacists often turn to us for a comprehensive or product-specific repackaging solution.

At Safecor Health, our core business is pharmaceutical repackaging. We have a proven track record and the broadest scope of repackaging services and formats that optimize key resources and save budget dollars for our customers. We provide solutions and expertise to our customers who want expert assistance with their medication repackaging and 100% bar code requirements, giving them the confidence and peace of mind that comes from working with the market leader.

.....

Count on Safecor Health to support the unique repackaging needs of your pharmacy. Utilize our repackaging services for specific products, certain categories of products, difficult repackaging formats, or items that are not cost-effective for you to repackage in-house.

Safecor Health, LLC
Boston / Columbus

8 Hovey Street
Woburn, MA 01801

4060 Business Park Drive
Columbus, OH 43204

800.447.1006 phone
866.518.8432 fax

safecorhealth.com